

ANNUAL LUNCH

Saturday, February 13, 2021

Climate Change is a Women's Issue

A VIRTUAL EVENT

Engage with experts

Raise funds for UN Women programs

SPEAKERS

Dr. Meg Lowman

Called the “Einstein of the treetops” by the Wall Street Journal, "Canopy Meg" was the founding director of the Nature Research Center in Raleigh, NC, and Executive Director of Selby Botanical Gardens. She is an author, treetop explorer, scientist, mom, and change-agent for conservation. canopymeg.com

Dr. Heather O'Leary

Dr. Heather O'Leary, Assistant Professor Anthropology, University of South Florida. She champions citizen engagement for sustainable urban development. Dr. O'Leary.

GCC HONOREE

Carol B. Green

Carol B. Green, President/CEO, Weight Watchers of the Rocky Mountain Region, Inc.; founder of The Women's Bank, Denver; National Winner of Woman in Business Award; author; former National Board UNIFEM; community volunteer; and longtime GCC member.

AND MORE

Raffle/Auction

Preview films featured in the Through Women's Eyes International Film Festival

TICKETS

Tickets $100 each, includes 1 UN Women membership* and 1 raffle ticket

8 tickets for $750, includes 1 UN Women membership* and 10 raffle tickets

* Current GCC members receive a membership to gift to a friend.

Visit unwomenusa.org/gcc for more information

ANNUAL LUNCH
Saturday, February 13, 2021

Climate Change is a Women's Issue

A VIRTUAL EVENT

SPEAKERS

Dr. Meg Lowman Dr. Heather O'Leary

GCC HONOREE

Carol B. Green

AND MORE

Auction/Raffle

Preview films featured in the Through Women's Eyes International Film Festival

TICKETS

$100 each, includes 1 UNW membership* and 1 raffle ticket.

8 tickets for $750, includes 1 UNW membership* and 10 raffle tickets.

* Current GCC members receive a membership to gift to a friend.